

IJP Band Christmas Concert

I hope that your Thanksgiving Holiday was a great one. That being said, its time for our annual Christmas Band Concert. The children have worked very hard to make this celebration a special treat.

Our tentative date is 12-15-11, a Thursday at 7pm.

The concert is held in our gym. The children will need to arrive 30 minutes early so that they can rehearse and they meet in the cafeteria. Following the concert, light refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

We need volunteers to bring snacks, treats, sweets, drinks, etc. If you have any questions on the menu, please contact Joy Harris .

The attire for the junior band (first year band student) is any nice outfit. Perferrably something Christmas like. The attire for Senior band (second and older year band student) is a tuxedo shirt and black pants.

We look forward to seeing everyone for this holiday tradition.

Please note that there is no band practice on Thursday, January 5, 2012. It will resume on January the 12th.

Please notice the second form and turn it in to the office, or email the answers to Gina Einert because we need an updated email address/phone list so that we can all communicate more effectively.

Thank you and I can't wait to see you at the Holiday performance of the year.
